Virtual Learning: Transformative Solutions for Leaders and Organizations.

Real-Time, Results-Oriented Learning

Our live online programs prepare leaders and their organizations to be proactive in the face of today's changing environment, adept at navigating unpredictable situations, and capable of responding quickly in bold, innovative ways. Whether it's a custom program or a range of topic-focused programs, our learning platforms enable live, synchronous learning experiences that allow your executives to engage directly with our renowned Harvard Business School faculty, learn from their latest research, debate the issues with a group of peers, and apply the learnings immediately.

The Harvard Business School Distinction

- World-Class Leadership Development—Our philosophy is rooted in teaching executives how to think, not what to think, so they develop the skills and mindsets needed to lead in a changing world.
- Renowned Faculty—Our world-renowned faculty members consistently deliver results-oriented experiences designed to address real-world challenges and deliver an immediate, measurable impact on your organization.
- Convening Power—Our ability to convene the most senior executives from the most influential global organizations allows us to build unparalleled diversity that challenges participants to change themselves and their organizations.

“An HBS Executive Education virtual program is an all-in experience that allows you to be fully immersed in the learning experience, connect with the world-class professors and experienced executives in deep personal conversations, and learn from the best in the field—in the comfort of your own home.”

—HUI CHENG TAN
DIRECTOR OF SALES EXCELLENCE
MICROSOFT PTY LTD., AUSTRALIA

“Leaders don't sit back and wait for things to happen. Leaders go and take charge. They need skills now to keep on going and keep on innovating.”

—STEFAN THOMKE

Key Benefits of Virtual Learning for Organizations

- Provides Anywhere Access—Eliminating the need for travel, virtual programs are more accommodating to executives' busy work and personal schedules.
- Accelerates Alignment—Virtual programs enable multiple groups of leaders within the same organization to get quickly up to speed to address pressing challenges.
- Allows for Real-Time Learning—Virtual programs allow participants to integrate their learning and skills into their daily work and apply them to address challenges in real time, delivering immediate impact to their organizations.
- Advances Learning Through Discussion Groups—Discussion group composition and case study preparation times are scheduled with careful attention to time zones, facilitating interaction, discussion, and networking in the virtual classroom and virtual breakout groups.
- Creates a Network of Global Peers—Frequent use of randomized breakout groups stimulates personalized interaction and builds strong relationships with global peers.
- Aligns with the Future of Work—Virtual programs enable learning and development teams to meet the expectations and needs of their organizations more efficiently by providing access to learning when it is most needed.
